

It has come to my attention that things are being misrepresented and I have things to clear up.

Please note some things may be out of order due to memory issues and/or it's important to something else.

TW: Grooming, emotional / mental abuse , gaslighting, manipulation, SA.

I will not be censoring names (mostly due to this being a public issue) but this doc is not made to witch hunt anyone involved, it's for my wellbeing and safety and to close a chapter in my life of things that was 5+ YEARS AGO.

I did a shit job in 2020 defending myself so this is my final time addressing these things so I can hopefully heal and move on.

Please also note, i do swear alot - Id rather be honest than censor myself.

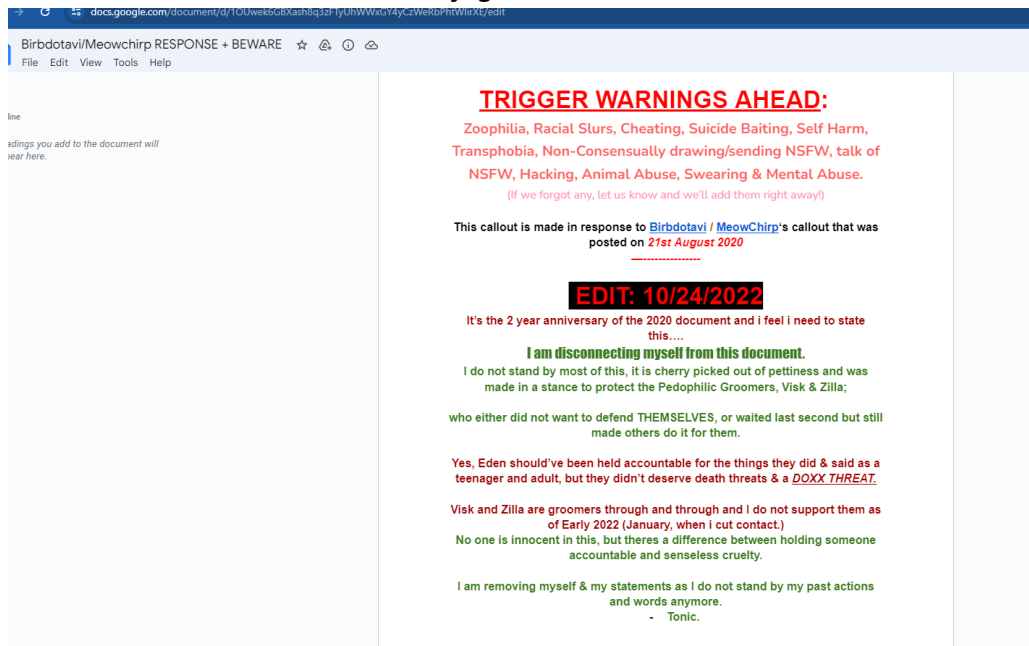

Again, DO NOT WITCH HUNT OR HARASS ANYONE IN THIS DOCUMENT. This doc is not made to “cancel” or a “smear campaign” anyone. This doc was made for the sole purpose of setting facts straight, after this, I DO NOT wish to have any more involvement with this or the people involved for it is stunting my healing and my growth.

I would appreciate it if you took your time reading all this, I understand this is a very long document . Thank you.

Please note this is only addressing everything that has to do with Bark and not anything to do with Tonic unless important to this document.

Tonic is a completely separate issue that i'd rather not address unless i have to in the future.

Also please note Tonic has admitted to cherry picking for the doc made to defend my groomers:

Tonic made & hosted typed BOTH the og doc and the one for Bark.

Now to get into some of my background: (skip if you want but i do believe its still important)

You all already know my name, Eden. I am 23 years old (dec 15 2000). I was molested by my half brother at 3. Raped by my cousins at 8, molested at 8 by old men my grandma would leave me with to do drugs, groomed online at 10-11 and 17-18.

Some of the grooming tactics included desensitizing me to feral porn and gore. I didnt realize it was wrong until the end of 2019 when I got away from my groomers and got with my current partner Jake.

My parents were abusive towards me growing up.

I've never lied about anything I've gone through in my vent videos.

When I was a teen I was diagnosed with depression, a panic disorder and PTSD.

In 2020, I was diagnosed with BPD.

I'm currently in the process of being checked out for other disorders

2017 - 2020

Again trigger warning for grooming and abuse.

In very late 2017 I met my groomers Kobe(Visk) and Taylor (Zilla - who was 23) through my ex best friend at the time, Jay. I was 16 when I met them , and I just turned 17 when I got with Kobe. I was with my groomer for 2 years. I was 17-18 , he was 20-21. The relationship lasted from 2018 to the end of 2019, when I met my partner Jake.

I also met Bark around this time too. (Will address this soon enough)

We had a server together , we would change the name often but the one name I do remember was "The Salt Empire".

In this server NSFW conversations were normalized and encouraged by the adults there, leading me to believe that shit was okay.

During this time I deleted that server due to Gorillaz memes being spammed in main and not in the spam channel and verbal abuse i was experiencing.

I do NOT have access to the og call doc due to Tonic deleting it (will also address this soon too)

(edit: while making this doc, I realized tonic has brought up the docs so og links SHOULD work)

But i do have my og response to the doc:

IDK how to title shit

In the og doc, they included a person I never met / interacted before named Sam.

Tho i never personally met Sam, Sam DID traumatize me by making a fake facebook, contacting my abusive mother and threatening to dox me over my groomer's dick pic I DIDN'T HAVE AT THAT POINT:

Important

(Please note I have taken accountability for saying the n word, the r slur and having many transphobic and acephobic beliefs - i do NOT stand for that shit and do NOT excuse my past actions)

“EDEN IS A GROOMER”

For this I will be calling Mouse “Bark” because that’s what I knew them by at the time.

I have address this before but during the time didnt have the words or mental state to address it at the time.

Bark’s OG thread: <https://twitter.com/SleepyyMouse/status/1365456018860302336>

My 2021 response: Response

Lets clear up something: TONIC deleted both og docs due to “it’s illegal for them to host them and they didnt want to get in legal trouble” I did NOT force them to delete it, they did it on their own accord.

Now on to this:

I met Bark in 2017, I had JUST turned 17 (most if not ALL sexual discussions happened when I was 17). I WAS BEING GROOMED MYSELF and led into thinking anything at the time I did was okay due to being surrounded by horrible people.

This isn't an excuse for my actions at the time, just an explanation.

I felt trapped being with my groomers and didn't know how to escape so I just led on anyone who’d given me the time of day. IT WAS 100% a cry for help.

I wasnt in therapy until Jan of 2020.

Here we can see I'm replying to a conversation.

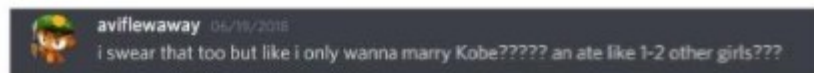

"You are definitely mature for your age"

A response to Bark saying that "they rather wait to date"

At the time I thought it was a mature thing to do to wait to date someone as seen in the reply above. Not in a way of "oh you are mature for your age so that's why you should date me"

"I'd wait till you are"

Was a reply to them telling them they definitely should wait until they are ready to date.

Wanting to date 1-2 other girls, keep this in mind with these next 2 screenshots:

I never met nor was interested in dating Bark's ex (if that's what bark was implying). It was a generalization of my thoughts at the time. I was questioning at the time if I was Polyamorous due to crying for help to get out of the abusive relationship I had with my groomer.

It wasn't until 2022 I accepted I was Polyam with my current partner.

I entertained the idea of being Polyam to many people INCLUDING Tonic and Taylor (who was in fact at the time grooming me)

Sending NSFW feral porn / drawing nsfw of bark's oc /NSFW chat:

Again this was normalized to me at the time and I thought it was okay to do all throughout my time on the internet as a teen. (Context: Me and Bark were on call and I the topic got to the wildshit you'd find on google looking up any given character's name. I remember us finding it weird and laughing about it.) As for NSFW of bark's oc, obv from being a tasteless joke, I shouldn't have been drawing nsfw in the first place due to 17.

Lewd-ish photo of myself: was a cry for attention. It was sent to Bark, Taylor, Kobe and a close friend of mine who was also 17. At the time I was deep into being groomed by Taylor and Kobe.
I was still a minor.

“Im jailbait basically”
I was told I was “jail bait” by one of my groomers, Kobe.(later on also was told this by my groomer Taylor)
Also me lying for my groomer when he def asked me to send him nudes.
Adding on to this, I DID NOT ask for anything sexual from bark.

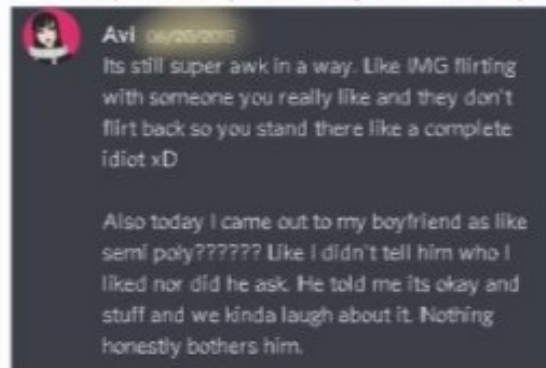

Money situation:

To clarify, i didnt make a single commission during said time.
The money I was spending was my OWN money I made when I was working.
I was trying to be a good friend and offer solutions to Bark's money issues.

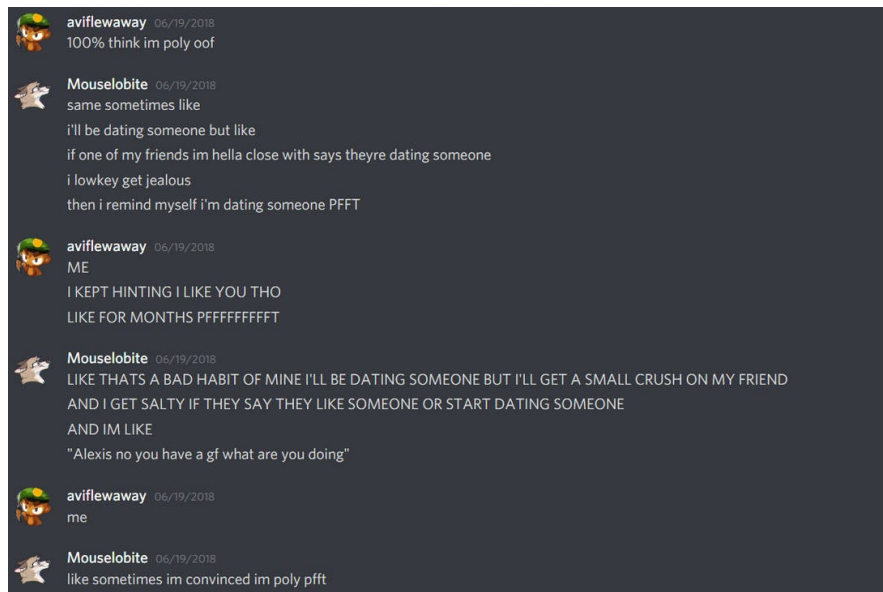

“Hiding way”

The dip n dots acc WAS a personal acc,
Due to the harassment and death threats I was getting, I needed a private place to vent were my friends could see and check up on me.

This message was also sent around the time I was going through my own relationship issues (which they were 100%) aware of

(^ was to Tonic.^)

To explain you need to understand my situation AND my DX of BPD:
“Favorite people”

As mentioned, a BPD favorite person is someone who holds significance for an individual with BPD and is often relied on heavily for emotional support and validation. This intense reliance can eventually lead to relationship challenges and emotional distress.

Specifically, those with BPD may fall into a cycle of idealization and devaluation with their favorite person. At first, an individual may view their favorite person as flawless. However, if the favorite person doesn't meet expectations or isn't available, someone with BPD might swiftly shift to intense negativity toward them. These shifts between idealization and devaluation can occur rapidly and frequently, leading to instability in the relationship.

Why does this happen? Some research shows a link between childhood abuse and the development of personality disorders, like BPD, later in life. The theory is that some people with BPD didn't receive the support or acceptance they were looking for from caregivers, causing an intense need for validation later in life.

(<https://www.charliehealth.com/post/what-it-means-to-have-a-bpd-favorite-person>)

Due to being groomed at the time , NOT knowing how to escape said grooming, and being undiagnosed; I would confuse romantic and platonic emotions. Again, I was 17 with undiagnosed BPD.

Bark marked this img as “lowkey asking me out”

Younger me DID NOT imply that and was confused on what Bark meant.

Context: At that time, i was in a one side relationship with a person named “Mel” who asked me out right after a break up and on the day my grandfather died, I didnt know how to turn down people so i accepted their proposal to date and was unhappy. Soon after dating Mel (maybe 2-3 months) , I'd met Kobe and he would start grooming me.

Last time I talked to Bark:

The Final Conversation;

Here I had CLEARLY said that NO it was NOT out of spite and I instead wanted to reach out to others who had a similar experience. Yet they insisted it was for some reason and basically implied I'd come crawling back??

This was not me indicating they would come crawling back , it was a warning that 2 of the people, they were talking to WERE MY GROOMERS and that it wasn't the best idea in the softest way i knew how to at the time.

The time felt like it WAS a personal attack, I had just been “called out” by my groomers.

“Why didnt you talk about it in vents?”

Honestly it was something I was trying to move on from and heal from. I have mentioned what they have done in this video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=n8ick11KdHQ>

And yes, this event was traumatic for me but for me i have LARGER traumas than this situation like being SA by my family, being groomed and being abused.

“Why didn't you update this in the past? Why did it take you over 3 years to re-address this?”

In 2021 to the start of 2023 I was struggling with my addictions to alcohol and weed. I WAS NOT in the right headspace to be giving this the care and explanation it needed.

I depended on these addictions to deal with my trauma for a long time. 2020 - 2021 was just what pushed me overboard into such things.

Overall, I can admit I had some abusive teanances ESP before being DX with BPD. I was not a good friend to ANYONE and I do still believe I hurt Bark even if I had no intentions to.

I AM NOT A GROOMER but I do believe I did hurt them and I still am deeply ashamed and sorry of it till this day.
